WANT WAGE CASE REVIEWED
Miners Will Forfeit $7,000,000 in Back Pay Unless They Return to Work.

By United Press Leased Wire
Scranton, Pa.—A new wage contract between the anthracite operators and mine workers having been signed by representatives of both parties last night, the general state committee of the United Mine Workers of America and three practical miners met here today to determine what course to obtain more satisfactory terms must be taken.

It was expected an appeal will be made to President Wilson or Secretary of Labor Wilson to open the case. Steps were to be taken at today's meeting to have the striking miners return to work.

The new contract of two years duration, signed willingly by the operators and under protest by the mine workers, is based on the majority report of the anthracite wage commission appointed by President Wilson to readjust wage and working conditions in the hard coal field.

"Vacation" Spreads
Wilkes Barre, Pa.—The "vacation strike" of coal miners in district number one continued to spread today according to insurgent leaders.

It was further asserted the ranks of the miners had been considerably swelled by thousands of other vacationists from outlying sections of this district.

Claims of the strike leaders were met by assertions of the coal company officials that the situation had grown no worse.

May Lose Back Pay
Washington—Secretary of Labor Wilson today summoned to Washington the commissioners of conciliation familiar with miners' disputes to be ready to act in the anthracite coal situation on Monday by the miners' vacation strike in Pennsylvania.

The miners forfeit approximately $7,000,000 back pay unless they return to work soon under plans now being made by operators, it was learned here today.

Illinois Mines Idle
Springfield, Ill.—Forty Illinois coal mines were idle today, according to reports here. Miners were on "vacation" grieving over a recent award to day men which increased the scale to $7.50 per day but eliminated bonuses.

BOLSHEVIK ARMY CRUSHED BY POLES

Official Warsaw Communiqué
Avers Polish Army Is Rapidly Advancing.

London.—The Polish delegates to the Minsk peace conference have formally rejected all proposals of the bolshevik delegates. The war office announced this afternoon. The Polish delegates, however, will leave Tuesday for Riga where the conference will be resumed.

Warsaw.—The scope of the bolshevik defeat in the Lemberg region continues to grow, according to the official Polish communiqué issued today.

Crushing of General Rudenny north of Lemberg has opened the way for a general Polish advance and the Poles have gone forward from 15 to 40 miles on a front of more than 100 miles.

"Our concentric attack has resulted in a considerable defeat for General Rudenny who is retreating in a panic," the communiqué said.

"East of Lemberg we have thrown the bolsheviks across the rivers Gnila, Lipa and Bug running north and south about 25 miles east of the city."

"By smashing General Rudenny we have completely defeated the bolshevik army in the Lemberg region and he is reported withdrawing beyond Romy fifty miles east and north of Lemberg."

"We have made huge hauls of prisoners and materials."

STRIKE SYMPATHIZERS CLASH WITH POLICE

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Five hundred strike sympathizers clashed with police here when officials of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company attempted to increase transportation not lines today.

A detective was badly cut and two men were arrested as a result of the clash.

One hundred and forty-six older employees returned to work today, it was announced by company officials. Increased number of cars were in operation.

SUFFERS WITH PARALYSIS

MacSwiney's Condition So Bad That Release Will Not Save His Life.

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, was virtually lifeless in Brixton prison today.

On the twenty-first day of his hunger strike he showed no signs of life save an occasional quiver of an eyelid.

Relatives who were at his bedside declared that to all intent his body was dead but that "his spirit still lingers."

A serious divergence of opinion between King George and his ministers has arisen over the question of releasing MacSwiney, according to rumors circulated today.

It was reported that at the intervention of Queen Mary, the king threatened to issue a royal proclamation freeing MacSwiney. Premier Lloyd George was said to have made a counter threat to hold up such a proclamation. Some of the ministers were alleged to be winning and even anxious to revoke the governmental order against releasing hunger strikers, but the premier was said to be adamant.

Has Paralysis
MacSwiney developed paralysis of the right side late yesterday as the result of failure of circulation and physicians expressed the fear it would soon extend to the whole body.

"It is too late for clemency now," said the lord mayor's brother, Sean.

Father Dominic held holy communion for MacSwiney this morning and said he believed it was for the last time.

Robert Smillie, William Adamson, Robert Williams and other British labor leaders appealed to the Lloyd George government today to release MacSwiney.

"Failure to release Lord Mayor MacSwiney jeopardizes settlement of the Irish question and stains British honor throughout the world," they said.

"His continued imprisonment is an outrage to public sentiment everywhere. His death will bring about a terrible explosion of anger and further bloodshed in Ireland."

"We fear it is too late to save the life of this Irish patriot and martyr."

HARDING ASSURES FARMERS OF HELP

Square Deal for Farmer Will Cut Living Costs, C. O. P. Nominees Avers.

By United Press Leased Wire
Marion, Ohio.—A square deal for the American farmer will be "one big practical step against the high cost of living," Senator Warren G. Harding declared, speaking to representatives of national farm organizations here today.

The republican candidate laid down his broad program for agriculture which he will expand in his Minnesota state fair speech.

Harding favors: Presence of the farmer in both administrative and representative government circles.

Extension of the farm loan principle, not only to those who own farms but to those who wish to buy land.

Restoration of a more normal supply of farm labor.

Cooperative buying, selling and distribution of farm products.

Products of American soil to be protected against those from countries with lower standards of living.

Harding said he deplored political appeals to special or class interests and put forward this program only with the firm belief that it is for the benefit of every consumer and the nation as a whole.

"A nation lives no longer than her agricultural health abides," he warned, declaring the farmer has been "smothered for eight years."

Harding incidentally warned against "undue meddling" in affairs of other nations which may in a future election result in a hyphenated vote which may be delivered to that "candidate who is most supine in face of an American pressure."

REPUBLICANS CONFIDENT

Hays Declares Opponents Cannot Present Proofs of Their Charges.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—The weekend lull in the senate committee's investigation of campaign funds is being used by both republicans and democrats in marshaling forces for next week's "battle royal."

Democrats were more active than republicans here today. E. H. Moore, who yesterday put new life into the inquiry by his arrival with new Republican party leaders, conferred with party leaders, and continued to give out interviews.

Moore and the other democratic leaders united in asserting that they have now "put it up to" committee to do some real investigating concerning Governor Cox's three fold charge—that the republicans were preparing to raise a corruption fund of $15,000,000; that sinister interests had their check books ready to buy an underhold on the government by aiding Harding's selection; and that profiteers and those desiring to see the bayonet used to control labor were in league with the G. O. P.

Moore said that one important "lead" already has been given the committee, through testimony regarding William Barnes' "militant" propaganda enterprise and the pledge of support to it from men and corporations of great wealth.

Another lead will be given, he said, when he testifies at the resumption of the hearings next Tuesday. That lead, he declared, will point the way to the evidence proving Cox's $15,000,000 slush fund charge.

Will Hays and another republican leader pooh-poohed the suggestion that Moore or Cox "had anything on" them. Hays and Fred Upham, republican treasurer, said Moore has brought "a lot of old stuff" to the committee. They said their only defense against his charge that a vast secret money raising organization was built under direction of a professional money raiser, will be a repetition of the denial they made when this charge was first made.

Subpoenas went out today to chairmen of republican state ways and means committees in Missouri, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana, and five more will be sent today to "field workers" in five other states, to be selected by Senators Pomerene and Reed, democratic members of the investigating committee.

By United Press Leased Wire
Sydney, N. S.—The long arm of the American law reached across the Pacific and caused the arrest and extradition of Edward Pooler, alias Dally, charged with an assault and robbery charge at Sheboygan, Wis., some weeks ago.

Pooler was accused of absconding with $500. He will be sent back to the United States.

NEW DEMANDS PRESENTED BY STRIKING CARMEN
By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Brooklyn continued today to walk, motor and roller skate to work, as the strike of employees of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit authority, elevated and surface systems entered the fifth day.

The men presented new demands, including wage increases of from 10 to 15 cents an hour.

Limited service on all lines of the B. R. T. was being maintained under the heavy police guards today by a few employees and volunteers.

Pay The Carrier Boy 15 Cents Tomorrow

Tremendously increased production costs have forced the Post-Crescent to charge 15 cents a week for delivery of the paper by carrier.

A part of the increased revenue derived from the sale of papers goes to your carrier. He is not working on a salary. He is in business for himself and is learning the fundamentals of merchandising. He buys his papers at a wholesale price and sells them at a retail price, and he knows that good service and courtesy to his customers means that his reward will be ready and waiting for him at the end of each week. Your carrier does not have sufficient capital to carry an account on his books. He must do a cash business, and for that reason he appreciates your prompt payment weekly.

By United Press Leased Wire
Toledo, Ohio.—Eleven stump speeches were on Governor Cox's schedule for the first day of his big "swing around the circuit."

Today's campaigning marks Governor Cox's first invasion of Michigan and he indicated that he may make public some of the "additional evidence" back of his charges that the republicans are raising a big "slush fund" to buy the presidency.

Cox and E. H. Moore, his personal representative at the investigation of the senate campaign expenditures committee who also had the unrevalued information, have agreed that the governor shall make public the papers in his possession as he deems wise.

Because of the conviction of Senator Newberry in the state, Cox expects to place particular emphasis today on his assertions that the republicans are seeking to buy "an underhold" on the presidency.

With the senate committee adjourned until Tuesday, Cox leaders say there is little probability of the governor appearing before the committee in the near future. Although he will be in Chicago tomorrow and Sunday, his schedule calls for speeches in North Dakota Tuesday. That democratic leaders thought it might be necessary for the candidate to go before the committee is indicated by the fact that the final railroad schedule for the trip west of Milwaukee has been withheld.

The governor will make two speeches at both Lansing and Kalamazoo today, the schedule having been changed last night.

Rear platform talks are scheduled for Tecumseh, Manchester, Leslie, Mason, Charlotte, Battle Creek and 30 minute stops will be made at Jackson, Lansing and Kalamazoo.

At Lansing Cox will speak at the Ingham county democratic club banquet and before the state Good Roads association.

Vice-President Marshall is expected to appear on the same platform with him at Kalamazoo.

Cox left here at 7:30 o'clock, his party having spent three hours trying to sleep in the railroad yards.

A special car of Michigan democrats met the governor here.

Population of New London, which is partly in Outagamie and Waupaca counties was announced as 4,897, as compared with 3,383 in 1910 and 2,742 in 1900.

Kaukauna's population by wards was announced as follows:

Second ward	1,294
Third ward	1,743

RESCUED 30 FROM SUB UNDER SEA 40 HOURS
Officers and Men on Disabled Submarine Miss Death by Minutes.

CIVILIAN GETS MESSAGE
Rescue Work Is Not Started Until Craft Is Submerged Thirty-five Hours.

New York—Rescued from a living tomb at the bottom of the sea, the 30 officers and men of the United States submarine S-5 were being taken to Philadelphia today on the steamer Albatross while behind them, on the end of a tow cable trailed the disabled submarine which sank off Cape Henlopen and nearly cost their lives.

The steamer General Goethals which sent out the first S. O. S. for the sunk S-5, dispatched the following wireless message today, which was picked up by the navy radio station here.

"Crew and officers on board Albatross. Crew and officers of submarine S-5 all safe. S-5 at inclination of about sixty degrees now secured to S. S. Albatross being towed to Delaware breakwater. Crew and officers still aboard Albatross."

Details of the accident which came within a hair's breadth of becoming a naval catastrophe, coming in by wireless from the rescue ships, unfolded a thrilling tale of heroism at sea.

Thirty-five hours after the S-5 en route from Boston to Baltimore on a recruiting expedition, had slipped to the bottom off Cape Henlopen, the steamer General Goethals broadcasted a radio S. O. S. The message said the submarine was caught beneath the surface and that help was urgently needed to raise her, or cut a hole in the hull through which the crew might be removed to safety.

Civilian Gets Radio
David L. Moore, an amateur radio operator at Farmington, Conn., sitting beside his instrument, picked up the bottom off Cape Henlopen, the steamer General Goethals broadcasted a radio S. O. S. The message said the submarine was caught beneath the surface and that help was urgently needed to raise her, or cut a hole in the hull through which the crew might be removed to safety.

David L. Moore, an amateur radio operator at Farmington, Conn., sitting beside his instrument, picked up the bottom off Cape Henlopen, the steamer General Goethals broadcasted a radio S. O. S. The message said the submarine was caught beneath the surface and that help was urgently needed to raise her, or cut a hole in the hull through which the crew might be removed to safety.

The battleship Ohio turned northward at once. Other destroyers darted out from New York yards along the coast and headed toward the spot. The general vicinity of latitude 38.24 north, longitude 74 west, and about fifty miles east of Delaware capes, where the submarine with its human cargo was reported resting on the bottom.

The word also was conveyed to the navy department at Washington which vividly told the story of the submarine which evidently did not know anything about it until thirty hours after the crash and headed toward the spot. No details yet of the manner in which the crew of the submarine, trapped under water and with every minute seeing their scanty supply of air near exhaustion, managed at last to attract the attention of a passing vessel.

While naval rescue ships plunged through the darkness to the aid of the S-5, the General Goethals stood by to lend what aid it could. The submarine was found at a sharp angle down the bow of the steam was much nearer the surface. It was evident that the Goethals would not be able to get the submersible to the surface before the air within it was exhausted.

Drill Through Sub
Men from the rescue vessels attacked the task of boring a hole through the submarine and introducing a hose through which fresh air could be pumped while the work of raising the S-5 went ahead.

This endeavor was very perilous but the men went at it with a will and soon got air into the submarine. A stream of clean, fresh air, brought new hope to the sailors inside and staved off the smothering death which had come so close.

Between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning at the navy radio station at New York, near the Battery, an anxious group of navy officers waited tensely for word from the rescuers. At intervals during the night messages had come, usually just a few words saying, laconically, "Men still alive."

Shortly after 5:40 a. m. came the news that the crew was safe.

Men Worn Out
After the S-5 was brought to the surface her sailors and officers, one by one climbed out and were taken aboard the Albatross. As each one appeared, haggard and worn, blinking at the early morning sunlight after the many hours of darkness, the rescuers cheered. A cable was passed to the submarine, one end of it sticking out of the bow, the other pointing toward the bottom, and the slow trip toward land was begun.

The Albatross first headed for Delaware breakwater and naval messengers received here and at Washington indicated the rescued crew would be taken to the League Island navy yard at Philadelphia.

The rescue was made possible by a war invention—a buoy which was released when the submarine sank, according to advices received here this afternoon. Officers on the steamship Goethals saw the buoy. A few words lowered. The men in the small boat rowed to the buoy and by means of a buzzer attached to it communicated with the sunken submarine.

The Albatross was the first to announce.

WANDERING MAN MAY BE DESERTER

Man Is Held Here Until Military Authorities Arrive From West.

The police believe they captured a deserter from the army when they apprehended Matthew E. Hann Tuesday. He was acting strangely while walking on the Dale road and was taken into custody by Officer John Knausen. Hann stated that he had been a sergeant in Company A, 16th Machine Gun Battalion, which is now at Camp Lewis, Wash. Chief Pratt, who is the commandant of the camp and received an immediate reply instructing him to hold Hann until the authorities could call for him.

The man talks intelligently but tells a series of incoherent stories, contradicting what he stated before. He was clad in a khaki shirt, had blue trousers, an old pair of shoes and no socks. He had not shaved for days. His clothing and hands were spattered with paint.

He explained the absence of his uniform by stating that his suit case had been stolen at Davenport, Iowa. He had no papers to show that he believe his statement that he was on a 29 day furlough which was to have expired August 31.

When asked if he had been drinking moonshine recently, he said he took his last drink in January while in service at Manila, P. I. He assured Chief Pratt that he did not care to poison himself with any of the "stuff" that was manufactured now.

The man also stated that he had spent no money for the last 19 years but that it had been sent to a military guard at Fort Leavenworth, who deposited it in a bank and paid him only what he actually needed. He said he gave $400 to his sister at Eau Claire.

It is believed that the man is of sound mind and has been under surveillance by the military authorities, with a guard appearing at 1000 a. m. on his office. The soldiers stationed at Camp Lewis, Iowa, were recently moved to Camp Lewis, Wash., and the man is believed to have wandered away during the transfer. He says he is 31 years of age and has been in the regular army over 20 years in fact, long enough to retire on a pension. He stated that the captain had told him it would be all right if he stayed longer than 30 days on his furlough.

2 ADDITIONS TO MUSIC FACULTY

New instructors in Singing and in Organ at Lawrence Conservatory.

Lawrence Conservatory of Music announces the addition of two professors to the faculty, Miss Gertrude Graves of New York as professor of singing, and Frank A. Tabor as professor of organ and theory.

Miss Graves is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Arson B. Graves, now retired bishop of Kentucky.

Miss Graves has a wide experience as a concert artist in the United States and Canada, and also as a teacher. Her study abroad and coaching under eminent masters has given her a thorough knowledge of tone placement, and the interpretation of songs, oratorios, and opera also an English, Italian, French, and German diction which are invaluable to her in her work.

For two years Miss Graves has been the head of the voice department of the Bishop's School San Diego, Calif., and for several years has maintained her own studio.

Mr. Tabor has had many years experience as a concert and church organist and as a teacher. He studied piano and organ at Hillsdale College, took graduate and post-graduate work at the University School of Music, Ann Arbor, Mich., studying organ with Professor Sari V. Moore, theory with Dr. Albert A. Starley, and piano with Mrs. Maud Okkelberg. He is a graduate and post-graduate of the University of Michigan, receiving the M. A. degree in 1917.

Mr. Tabor was a member of the Organ and theory faculty at the University of Michigan for three years.

on Many Questions.

Expert advice in cost accounting, standardization of materials and other phases of business activity was made available to members of Appleton Chamber of Commerce by the production department of the National Chamber of Commerce which has placed the local organization on its mailing list for all information issued by the department. Notice of this action was received Thursday by Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the local chamber.

The letter to Mr. Corbett follows: "In compliance with your request of Aug. 24 referred to this department, we have placed your organization on our mailing list for such information as this department will send out to its members interested in production problems.

"If you have a number of manufacturers in your membership may we suggest that you advise them of the establishment of this department in the chamber to deal with all common problems of manufacture in which any considerable number are concerned.

"These will include Cost Accounting, Standardization of Materials and products, Elimination of unnecessary variety, Production Statistics, etc.

MUST KEEP AUTOS OFF PARADE ROUTE

No Cars Will Be Allowed on Streets Traversed by Labor Day Parade.

No automobiles will be allowed on the streets traversed by the parade Monday morning, according to an announcement by George T. Prim, chief of police. All cars must be cleared from the line of march by nine o'clock and remain off until the entire parade has passed.

This order will include Washington street from Oneida to Drew, Drew from Washington to College avenue, College avenue from Drew to Cherry, Cherry to Eighth, and Walnut between Eighth and College avenue, which is the line of march for the Labor day parade.

This action has been taken to prevent traffic congestion and accidents, and gives the unions an opportunity to arrange a more impressive looking procession. The chief will order policemen to enforce the arrangement.

The people of Appleton are asked to cooperate in this plan and those coming from outside points are also warned not to park their cars within the restricted area.

Committee Finishes Work

The community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce finished its consideration of a fall program at its meeting on Friday morning. Several important recommendations will be made to the board of directors. It was decided to hold regular meetings at 4:30 o'clock the first and third Monday of each month.

PHYSICAL LEADER FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Recreational Department Will Be Able to Extend Its Work Soon.

A physical director is to be engaged to direct gymnasium work and dancing classes of Appleton Woman's club, it was decided at a meeting of that organization at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening. The club is now in communication with several candidates for the position.

Activities during the summer have demonstrated that one secretary cannot cover the entire field. The Misses Margery Thomas and Rose Ryan assisted Miss Constance Johnson the last three months. About 125 people have been reached each week through the classes and clubs.

J. C. Glassy, principal of Appleton High School, after conferring with Coach Arthur Vincent, has made the high school gymnasium available for the club for two and possibly three evenings a week. Consequently the club will be enabled to offer besides the regular gymnasium courses, folk dancing, social dancing, corrective gymnastic work, basket ball and indoor and outdoor sports of all kinds. Then there will be a series of all kinds from fiction and story telling club to the Wood Craft League.

The recreation department of the club has a splendid start and with the whole-hearted support will be able to accomplish big things. The organization has been broadening constantly and has become stronger.

ONLY FOUR ENTERED IN CITY TENNIS TOURNAY

Entries are coming in for the All City tennis tournament which is being conducted this week by the Y. M. C. A. In order to make a good turnout of Appleton players the association urges that entries be returned as rapidly as possible so that games may start promptly on Monday. Among those who have entered

Old Resident Near Death

"I had not eaten food for 10 days and was slowly starving to death. Given up by five doctors. I tried a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which gave relief at once. I am 75 years old and would have died but for your wonderful medicine. The jaundice is all gone and I am gaining appetite and strength every day." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—"Druggists Everywhere."

Joseph Hatten of Hortonville was a business visitor here Thursday.
The Dale-Hortonia Cow Testing association held a meeting at Hortonville Tuesday evening.

NEW LONDON HEARS ANTI-SOCIALIST

Constitutional Defense League Speaker Delivers Address Thursday.

(Special to Post-Crescent.)
New London—Miss Marie Ziegenhagen who was born and raised in this city has the distinction of being the only woman in the country who has the entire management and control of a large flouring mill. The Willy and company flour mill at Appleton has enjoyed a steady growth the past few years due in a large measure to the untiring efforts and business ability of Miss Ziegenhagen who has been with the company for the fifteen years. In 1905 she began as bookkeeper for the Willy company and in 1917 after the death of T. A. Willy, the owner of the mill, Miss Ziegenhagen was appointed general manager.
P. G. Gordon, of Haverhill, Mass., who is touring the country under the auspices of the Constitutional Defense League delivered a lecture on "Economic facts on a street corner" here Thursday evening. The Defense League is conducting a state wide campaign against the enemies of good government. Mr. Gordon was for fifteen years identified with the American Federation of Labor as organizer, and then he was appointed by the Department of Labor as Federal Immigration Inspector.
G. A. Vandree, one of New London's business men, is making plans to establish a chain of consumer's stores in several nearby cities. This plan has worked out very successfully in many larger cities and Mr. Vandree sees no reason why neighboring towns should not derive the benefit from such a plan. Mr. Vandree has not fully completed his plans for locations but doubtless one of the consumer's stores dealing in groceries only will be opened at Clintonville with Mr. Vandree as manager.
The rest and emergency tent at the county fair at Weyauwega Sept. 7, 8, 9 and 10 will be in charge of the ladies of the Methodist church of this city and the county nurse. The nurse will conduct the weighing and measuring of children and will be glad to be of service to parents. The tent will also be a rest room for mothers.
Friends of the Sperber family who until a few years ago made New London their home will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Sperber. She, which occurred recently at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peters at Greesham. The deceased had suffered a stroke of paralysis some time ago from which she did not entirely recover. This was followed by a second stroke which resulted in death. The funeral was held from the daughter's home and was in charge of Rev. Mr. Tofts of Oshkosh. The body was taken to Shawano, her former home, and laid to rest in the family lot. Among those who attended the funeral from away were Edward Sperber of Chicago, Principal and Mrs. Robert Sperber of Racine, Mr. and Mrs. Frank of Black Creek. She is survived by her aged husband. Several sons and daughters.
Frank A. Maas who has been organizing the Outagamie Limestone company at Black Creek this summer has returned to Milwaukee to resume his duties as principal of the Training Department at the State Normal School. He was accompanied here by Mrs. Maas, and children, Dorothy and Donald who had been spending several weeks with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Kober of this city.

DENIES RIFLES WERE GIVEN AMERICAN LEGION

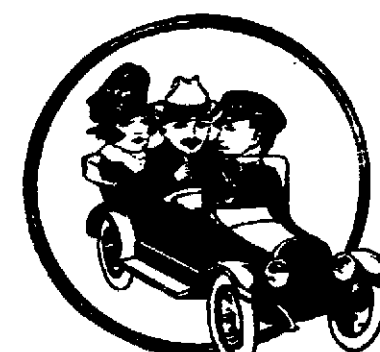

Kan. Claire, Wis.—The statement is an unqualified lie. There has never been a single rifle issued to a single post of the American Legion in the state of Wisconsin.
Such was the emphatic reply of R. M. Gibson, state adjutant of the American Legion, to a statement of William Coleman, Milwaukee, socialist candidate for governor, that rifles were being issued to posts of the American Legion.
According to G. M. Hill of the Road Construction company, Grand Rapids, Mich., who was present at the meeting, Coleman added:
Those guns are to shoot you men when you strike.
Coleman was speaking to a crowd of laboring men from the West Side bandstand at Eau Claire Sunday night.

BAND IS ORGANIZED IN THE TOWN OF SPRUCE

Oconto, Wis.—A new musical organization has entered the field of Oconto county activities. The band in question is the Spruce Community band of Spruce, Oconto county, and under the leadership of Robert Hall, who for a number of years, has been one of the musical geniuses of this city. Last winter, Conductor Hall, who is attaining fame as an agriculturist, organized a band among the farmer boys of Spruce and so successful has been the venture that today, the organization is considered one of the finest bands in northeastern Wisconsin.
A few days ago, the band journeyed to Oconto Falls and gave a concert. The program was varied and every number was creditably rendered. At the conclusion of the concert, the members of the band were invited to the rooms of the Oconto Falls Commercial club where refreshments were served. At the conclusion of which a purse of $50 was presented to the band, this sum having been collected from the audience.
A dance was then given in Music hall for the benefit of the Commercial club band.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Appleton Chamber of Commerce has been in existence five months. It was organized with a membership exceeding 700, and was the product of one of the most notable civic gatherings ever held in this city. The Chamber of Commerce was brought into being under the most favorable circumstances and with every prospect that it would speedily become an influential factor in the affairs of Appleton and a power for the promotion of its interests and its upbuilding. It was not only supported by a large membership and liberal financial provision, but it had the enthusiastic good will of everyone. Few commercial organizations in the country have been launched on a stronger or better basis than the Appleton Chamber of Commerce.

It was the unanimous agreement of everyone who became a member of the Chamber of Commerce, including those who were actively helpful in promoting it, that it was one of Appleton's foremost needs. It was also agreed that there were many things touching Appleton's civic and commercial life that required attention, and to which an association of this kind could address itself with great benefit to the community. Sometime ago a poll was taken of the members to ascertain their views as to what were the most important matters that should be taken up by the Chamber of Commerce. The response to this invitation for an expression of opinion was general and the large number of subjects presented was persuasive evidence of the fact that there is plenty to do here for our civic and material advancement.

The Post-Crescent hesitates to pass any comment upon the activities of the Chamber of Commerce which might in any way be construed as either hurtful or unjust criticism, but it feels nevertheless that the organization is not making the headway which was expected of it. We believe that this reflects the feeling more or less throughout the city. It may of course be that the Chamber of Commerce is engaged in activities which do not invite publicity and which will materialize sooner or later into tangible results. We are only now speaking of the public impression, and that is something to which due consideration must be given because the prosperity and success of any civic organization depends in the long run upon a healthy state of public mind toward it.

We realize that considerable time was required to perfect the organization and to equip it. We also believe that it would be too much to expect any very substantial results from its work during the first year. We are, however, of the opinion that the first year is the vital year in this respect, that public attention will be very much focused from the work undertaken and the aggressiveness and capacity in which it is handled. It takes months and sometimes years to develop projects and various movements and forces which are vital to a city's progress, but the important thing is to get these undertakings in motion and under way.

A Chamber of Commerce needs to be before the public constantly. Its purposes are of such a character that publicity is one of its most healthful agencies for accomplishing what it is designed to accomplish. The Appleton Chamber of Commerce is very little before the public and this no doubt has given rise to the impression that it is not quite as "live" as it ought to be. We do not assume to know what the real facts are, but from surface indications we think the Chamber of Commerce is in danger of disappointing many whose support is essential to its life and future. We realize that the directors may take exception to this view, and that it is a delicate subject to touch upon but we assure them that the attitude of The Post-Crescent is wholly friendly and that it intends this criticism, if it may be so interpreted, to be only constructive.

The Post-Crescent desires in every possible way to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce and make it the success that this field and opportunity offer. It wants it to be a real asset to Appleton and to make its work and prestige count effectively for the city's betterment and upbuilding. Our sole concern is that it may not be measuring up to the standards set by those who anticipated the part it would play in our civic and commercial life. It may be that this is an unwarranted assumption, but if it is it will at least serve the purpose of having the facts given to the public and of renewing interest and loyalty to the association. The Post-Crescent's sole wish is to see Appleton have a Chamber of Commerce that is in every way exceptional and superior.

THE THREATENED COAL STRIKE

If the anthracite miners realize what is best for organized labor as well as themselves they will accept the arbitration board's wage award and bow to the judgment and warning of President Wilson. This wage award was made by a board appointed by the president, both miners and operators agreeing in advance, to be bound by whatever decision was made. Because a minority report was submitted recommending a higher scale than the majority held was just and reasonable, the miners have been insisting upon approval by the president of the minority report and have threatened to strike unless the measure of increase it provided was put into effect. The miners served notice they would quit work Sept. 1. Mr. Wilson met this threat with a warning that the majority report is all that will be considered and that the men will be expected to carry out the award in good faith and to the letter. A large number of men have struck without sanction of the United Mine Workers. Whether the rest will remain at work or not is to be decided within the next few days. In his statement to the men President Wilson said:

Collective bargaining would soon cease to exist in industrial affairs if contracts solemnly entered into can be set aside by either side whenever it wills to do so.

Organized labor is just now laying great stress upon the right of collective bargaining and the extent to which it shall be carried. Nothing could so quickly destroy collective bargaining and imperil the future of organized labor as the repudiation of contracts or failure to honestly execute them. The business world exists and is able to maintain itself only through the inviolability of contract. All relationships, social, industrial, personal, rest upon the principle that agreements solemnly entered into will be kept. The principle of course governs whether the agreement is enforceable in law or not, for a man's word is supposed to be as good as his bond, and if it is not he loses the confidence of his fellows.

A strike by the anthracite miners would be an express violation of an agreement solemnly made and as binding as any contract possibly could be. Nothing could be more disastrous to the advancing cause of organized labor than an incident of this kind, which every employer and the public at large would regard as evidence of the irresponsibility and unreliability of labor unions. It would inevitably invoke determined resistance to collective bargaining and justly so, for how could it be argued otherwise than that if contracts made with organized labor were not made in good faith and were not meant to be kept there would be no use or excuse of making them at all.

The interests of labor everywhere are involved in the decision of the anthracite miners, and it is greatly to be hoped they will not make the very grave blunder of striking in an attempt to nullify an agreement freely and seriously negotiated.

HEART MUSCLE DEGENERATION

Myocarditis, myo, muscle; card, heart; itis, inflammation is a general name which physicians apply to numerous insidious degenerative changes involving the wall of the heart. It includes the muscle weakening which occurs in the course of numerous infectious diseases as well as the more permanent or progressive degenerations of the heart muscle, which occur with advancing arterial hardening, neglected syphilis, old age or premature old age, pernicious anemia, Bright's disease, chronic alcoholism and chronic tobaccoism. Myocarditis of heart muscle degeneration includes the impairments commonly known as fatty degeneration and "neuritis of the heart" (angina pectoris or breast pang) which isn't neuritis.

Although I have carefully refrained from detailing symptoms of heart disease to the public, it is impossible to refer to the subject without receiving many letters from readers who lightly conclude they have heart "trouble" and will I kindly send advice for the treatment of the trouble. So I am going to skip the chapter on symptoms. Might as well skip it, anyhow, because there are no characteristic symptoms by which a layman may know that he has heart muscle degeneration. Only the physician can determine whether the heart is diseased, by physical examination and by applying functional tests.

Here are some indications which, though certainly not warranting a diagnosis of heart muscle degeneration or heart weakness, do, nevertheless, call for an examination by the physician:

Gradually increasing breathlessness or undue difficulty in getting breath under slight exertion, such as skipping up a flight of stairs or running to catch a car. A persistent or frequently recurring cough without apparent cause. An unwanted weariness coming on with prolonged mental effort. An impairment of a previously good memory. Very transient dizziness in an individual not usually subject to dizziness. Air hunger, shown by inability to hold the breath more than 30 seconds. A healthy individual can hold the breath 40 seconds. I repeat that such indications as these may be due to factors other than weakened heart and only a physician can determine their significance in the individual case.

Contrary to a popular notion pain in the region of the heart or consciousness of irregular or labored or rapid heart beat is not commonly complained of by persons with heart disease; and symptoms like these, when present, usually do not signify heart disease.

In short, it is impossible for the victim of beginning myocarditis or myocardial degeneration to realize, from his own sensations, the cause of his impaired health or diminishing efficiency, but if he is not a gambler he will at least recognize that his health is impaired or his efficiency diminishing long, long before any disaster is likely to occur and seek the counsel and guidance of his physician, instead of the tender mercies of Tom, Dick and Harry.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Diet of Nursing Infant

You will confer a favor by recommending the proper diet for a nursing infant of six months. Three ounces of diluted prune juice and one or two graham crackers have already been added to the daily diet, but am in doubt as to what other nourishment should be given at this age. (J. T. L.)

ANSWER—A breast-fed baby requires no food until weaned. If, for any reason, there is a question that the baby is receiving sufficient nourishment from the breast, do not supplement the nursing by anything without the advice of your physician.

Brief Course in Auto-Surgery

Will you please tell me what I can do to draw out a particle of glass or tin which entered my finger? (Mrs. R. E.)

ANSWER—You will forgive me, but your question is a foolish one. Why not consult a doctor? Possibly your labor under the impression that some saline or poultice or something "draws" it doesn't.

Tony's Natural Diet

A statement has been made to me to the effect that bread constitutes 90 per cent of the diet of the people in Italy and only 60 per cent in France and less than 50 per cent in America. Is it true that we could profitably increase our consumption of bread, making it 50 per cent of our diet, with continued health, strength and energy? (C. Q. M.)

ANSWER—If it were honest, unadorned staff of life, yes. But the ultra-refined imitation which we call bread is robbed of much of the necessary mineral salts, most of the vitamins of the wheat, kernel, and all of the valuable bran. The Italian peasant consumes a large amount of leafy vegetables, greens, etc., which supplement the wholesome bread he eats. The bread of the Frenchman, too, is much more wholesome than the pale imitation we use.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Friday, Sept. 6, 1895

T. H. Ryan returned from a several days' business trip to Antigo.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Boynton of Menasha were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bailey, Lawrence street.

Doctor Schug disposed of his interest in the barber business of Schug and Miller and left for Rhineland with his family where he expected to locate permanently.

Fire Chief E. L. Anderson and Driver George McCallan left for Chicago to inspect the fire department of that city.

Dr. S. S. Willis, who had been in charge of the practice of Drs. J. T. and J. S. Reeve during their absence abroad, returned to his home in New York.

Miss Ella C. Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Pierce, and John W. VanAlstyne were married the night previous at the home of the bride's parents on Second street.

Mr. Froelich received an announcement of the death of his mother in Germany. She was 64 years old and had been in delicate health for some time.

A grass fire on Prospect street bill for a time threatened the residence of J. H. Whorton.

Senator Philinus Sawyer of Oakshoe presented President Samuel Plank with a check for $200 which was to be used for the purchase of apparatus for the biological department of Lawrence university.

William Nabholz, aged 73 years, died the previous Wednesday at his home in the town of Freedom. He was the father of Henry and Fred Nabholz of Appleton.

Mrs. W. H. Vandegrift celebrated their twentieth wedding anniversary the evening previous.

Mrs. George M. Steele, wife of the former president of Lawrence university, died at her home in Auburnville, Mass.

CAN AMERICA BEAT THIS? ENGLISH ASK

London.—Following the report from the United States announcing that the Western Union had sent one message of 52,386 words from Los Angeles in New York in a little more than ten hours, English telegraph companies admitted they were forced for a single message, but pointed out that nearly two million words were filed out of London in eight hours on Nov. 23, 1911, when Sir Edward Grey made his address on the Moroccan crisis. They ask "can America beat this?"

Chicago's Book Shops

By Frederic J. Haskin

Chicago, Ill.—Interesting little book shops have been springing up in Chicago of late as thickly and quickly as mushrooms. The fact that they are so numerous, although distinctly of an advanced and highbrow character, is a pleasing comment upon the Chicagoans' taste and wide-awakeness. It may be that the influence of the war, which gave everyone the incentive to read more seriously than before, is still lingering, and that people are turning from the countless war books they have perused only to indulge their newly acquired habit in more general reading. Then again it may be that Chicagoans have always hungered and thirsted for good books and the new book shops have only brought this longing into prominence by satisfying it.

Women have good reason to be proud of the part their sex plays in the development of literary Chicago. To a casual observer it appears that a large percentage of the little book shops are run by women. This supports the theory of Marcella Burns that running a book shop is peculiarly a woman's job, needing as it does a personal touch and understanding as well as business ability. And Marcella Burns ought to know because she runs one of the largest book departments in the city for one of the largest department stores.

A few years ago Miss Burns undertook the management of the very small and undeveloped book section typical of the department store and made it, by her own energy combined with vision, into one of the most satisfactory book shops in Chicago today. It is an amusing sidelight upon the rapid advance of women in industry to note that the man who was her boss before she got this job is now working for her in the capacity of assistant.

Makes Salesmen Buy

One of Miss Burns' most successful innovations was to make the head salesman of each section the buyer of that section also. She felt that not only was the salesman well fitted for this duty, being in close touch with the public and thus knowing the demand, but also he would take a much keener interest in selling the books he had chosen himself, to vindicate his judgment.

"Besides," says Miss Burns, "he has the fun of buying the books and selling them, too, and doesn't get into a rut."

Another of her novel touches is the Book Fair which is held every fall. It is something like a country fair except that instead of farmers coming from miles around to exhibit the largest turnip or pig, publishers come from all over the country, or send their representatives, and exhibit, each in his little booth, the various books, old manuscripts and other interesting objects of his business. There are speeches by well-known authors, there are the originals of illustrations, there are demonstrations of printing methods. In fact the public is taken into the heart of the publishing business, and shown how much work and talent go into the making of books, with the result that one looks at them with new respect and interest.

Butcher's Book Shop, a very small one of an entirely different type, has the distinction of being the only book shop run by a critic. It does not appeal so much to the general public as Miss Burns' venture, but it probably appeals more to book lovers. Miss Butcher has been a critic and book reviewer for five years. Last spring it occurred to her that her wide knowledge of books and constant association with them might be of value to the book-buying public in another capacity. So she and another girl not long out of the University of Chicago started a modest book shop.

"It wasn't started with a commercial purpose," said Miss Butcher, "but it has been very successful commercially, in spite of the fact that I knew hardly anything about business when we began. The nicest thing about the shop, I think, is the way it seems to attract the authors who go touring through the midwest. Many a literary light who has called has finished his visit by helping me dust books."

Where Famous Men Come
Miss Butcher's guest book contains such names as Maurice Maeterlinck, W. B. Yeats, H. L. Mencken, Frederic O'Brien and Edna Ferber. Carl Sandburg has inscribed along with his name this appropriate sentiment: "Next to a real restaurant what is more holy than a real book shop? May the spiders be a long while getting this one of F. B.'s."

Next to Miss Butcher's shop is the Children's Book Shop, devoted exclusively to good books and constructive toys for the young Chicagoan, and showing that Chicago is going in for culture from the ground up, as it were. This shop is three years old, and is run by Louise Douglas Hyde, herself the mother of three children.

Only good books are sold here, so the busy parent who has no time to censor his off-spring's reading turns to it with relief. The shop itself is a charming place, artistically decorated by Genevieve Stump. Everything is upon a small scale, even to the low door by which you enter, so that the child feels that there is really a shop meant for him.

A book shop far removed from these in character, but also run by a woman is the Radical Book Shop, one of those landmarks of liberalism which nearly every large city endures, and which a small artistic and liberal group in every city cherishes. This shop with the radical name has for proprietor a gentle-voiced little lady, Mrs. Udell, assisted by her daughter Geraldine. Its history is an interesting example of the idealism, which however much we may disapprove of it, we cannot help but admire.

Four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Udell started their shop in a cubby hole on Clark Street with no money to speak of but a great deal of faith. For two years they struggled along selling books and pamphlets treating economic and social subjects in an advanced way, and eking out their income by running a laundry agency in the shop. In times of great emergency they sold one of the valued books from their private library, "feeling like cannibals when we did so," says Mrs. Udell.

A Book Shop Backed By Authors

Two years ago, just when they were beginning to glimpse some success for their long struggle, Mr. Udell died, leaving Mrs. Udell, who is blind, alone in the world with two growing daughters and no money. But the many friends which the little shop had gained, rallied to its support in this crisis. Two of them, Theron Cooper and Sherwood Anderson, organized the Cooperative Book Stores Company, nearly every regular customer of the store took one or more shares in it, and the Radical Book Shop now occupies a quaint and colorful corner store. The fact that Sherwood Anderson is one of its backers gives it dignity even in the eyes of the conservative; since his book, "Winesburg, Ohio," has been called one of the greatest in a decade by critics here and abroad.

Recently the Cooperative Book Stores Company started a second shop in the downtown district, called the Walden Book Shop. Both these stores are run on a cooperative basis—that is, if you buy a book there you give a slip of paper upon which you write your name and address to leave with the shop. Then at the end of the year a certain percentage of the profit made on the purchase of your book is returned to you. So far the percentage returned to purchasers has been so low as to be negligible, but, as the shops are always paying dividends to the stockholders it is to be expected that their customers will soon be surprised by substantial results.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Can airplane motors be started in the air? R. M. K.

A. The Air Service says that airplane engines are continually started in the air, after having been voluntarily cut off, by putting the airplane in a diving position. The force of the air against the blades of the screws is sufficient to turn the engine over and start it going. Many airplanes are being fitted with self-starters.

Q. Is the grain we call corn, known as corn the world over? E. G.

A. Corn is a term often used for the important cereal crop of a given region; thus in England corn usually means wheat; in Scotland, oats; in Ireland, barley; while in this country it means maize.

Q. Why are London policemen called Bobbies? A. B. G.

A. The name, was taken from that of Sir Robert Peel, who created the "constabulary," also known as Peoliers. The names spread to England.

Q. I wish information on the duty charged on clothing and jewelry going from and returning to this country. E. B.

A. The Department of Commerce says there is no duty on personal effects and jewelry owned by persons leaving the country. New clothing and jewelry up to $100 is admitted free.

Q. What is the difference between a deserter and a draft dodger? E. T.

A. An army deserter is a soldier who abandons the service without leave and with no intention to return. A draft dodger is one who fails to report to his draft board, and was therefore never inducted into the service.

Q. Shouldn't canned goods be boiled before eating? G. N. W.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that it is not necessary for canned goods to be boiled before being opened if Government directions for canning have been carefully followed. Many canned puddings on the market, however, are meant to be boiled in the case, such preparations having the instructions printed on the labels. Some soups bear directions for heating before opening.

Q. Were the large shipments of gold early this year from England to the United States to pay part of our loan to them? M. T.

A. The Treasury Department says that the gold shipped to the United States by England was to take up payments on the Anglo-French loan. This was not the Government loan to England, but money loaned by individuals through the purchase of bonds.

Q. How many people are employed by the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington and outside of Washington? G. P. A.

A. There are about 950 persons employed by this commission in Washington and about 1,000 outside of the city.

Q. What is the value of the silver in a silver dollar now? J. W.

A. The value of the silver in the dollar varies with the price of silver, which changes continually. At present the silver in this coin is worth less than one dollar.

Q. Does the Vatican have a diplomatic representative at Washington? T. R.

A. Archbishop John Bonzano is the papal delegate to the United States.

Q. What is a chinook wind? C. H.

A. This is a name given to a strong, warm, and dry south or west wind descending the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains into Montana and Wyoming, evaporating or melting the snow and bringing great relief in cold weather. The name was probably given to it because it blew from the territory occupied by the Chinook Indians.

CONFESSION OF A BRIDE THE BOOK OF ANN

What One Class Builds, the Other Tears Down.
The Loring grounds were astonishingly well suited for the rally. The crowd was admitted at the front entrance; it spread over the park and around the lake, it invaded the sacred blue garden, spooned under the pergola, and the early arrivals took the choice places on the brink of the green swarded bowl, from which to get a perfect view of the ball-ballet.

Back of the meadow, in a corner of the red Ann's house and mine. They made the most convenient dressing room for all who were to appear in the pageant. The boy scouts, who were helping us, used my house, and the girls strung their dainty garments from end to end of Ann's second floor.

After we were costumed, and flitted and rouged and powdered, each of us was carefully inspected by the director of the dance. Even the rose wreaths on our crowded heads had to be tilted at an exact angle, and we girls vastly relieved when at last the director was ready to view us "ensemble." And then, to our vast astonishment, he called through his megaphone:

"Take off your rings, young ladies!" There were several engagement rings in the lot, rings of this year's harvest, of course, the proud possessors were exceedingly loath to lose a chance to display them.

But the director was obdurate. "My mistake, I admit," he said. "Ought to have warned you to leave the things at home. Ought not to have taken it for granted that you'd do so. Sorry. But off they'll have to come, girls!"

"Don't argue the point at the last minute," whined Deborah, the rosiest sister of the superb new soloist. That settled the trouble, for what the Burns girls do all the others do willingly, and so, in about two minutes, Ann had collected gems worth a small fortune in her gold mesh bag.

PEACH COBBLER
6 peaches
1/2 cup sugar.
1 tablespoon butter
BAITER
1 cup flour.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1 tablespoon sugar.
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons lard.
milk to make soft dough.
1 egg (yolk)
MERINGUE
2 tablespoons granulated sugar.
1 egg (white)
Pare and slice peaches. Put in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with sugar, dot with butter, add a little water, cover and simmer while making the dough. Sift dry ingredients. Rub in lard with tips of fingers. Beat egg yolk with 1/4 cup of milk. Add to dry mixture, cutting the liquid in with a knife, add more milk if necessary to make a soft dough. Spread over peaches and bake twenty minutes in a hot oven. Turn upside down on a deep pie or auditing serving dish, spread with meringue and brown under flame. The meringue is made by beating the white of egg till stiff and dry and gradually beating in the sugar.

My Own Recipes
In this dinner menu the peas and desert are the only hot foods. The meat course is light so the dessert should be heavier than when a more substantial meat is served.

When a fruit stain with sugar in it gets on the table-cloth there is sometimes some difficulty in removing it.

Clear warm water applied with a piece of chamois skin will remove the stickiness. If the stain persists, boiling water may then be poured thru the spot, as for any fruit stain.

BREAKFAST—Baked apples, scrambled eggs, toast, orange marmalade, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Minute rabbit, brown bread and butter, celery, sliced peaches, tea.
DINNER—Veal loaf, potato chips, creamed pease on toast, vegetable salad, peach cobbler, coffee.

My Own Recipes
In this dinner menu the peas and desert are the only hot foods. The meat course is light so the dessert should be heavier than when a more substantial meat is served.

MINUTE RABBIT
2 cups milk.
3 tablespoons minute tapioca.
1/4 cups cheese
1 egg.
1/2 teaspoon mustard.
1 teaspoon salt.
Pepper or paprika.
Scald milk in double boiler and when hot add tapioca. Cook 15 minutes and add cheese cut into small pieces. Cook, stirring constantly until melted. Add well-beaten egg mixed with a little cold milk, salt and mustard. Serve immediately on toast.

PEACH COBBLER
6 peaches
1/2 cup sugar.
1 tablespoon butter
BAITER
1 cup flour.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1 tablespoon sugar.
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons lard.
milk to make soft dough.
1 egg (yolk)
MERINGUE
2 tablespoons granulated sugar.
1 egg (white)
Pare and slice peaches. Put in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with sugar, dot with butter, add a little water, cover and simmer while making the dough. Sift dry ingredients. Rub in lard with tips of fingers. Beat egg yolk with 1/4 cup of milk. Add to dry mixture, cutting the liquid in with a knife, add more milk if necessary to make a soft dough. Spread over peaches and bake twenty minutes in a hot oven. Turn upside down on a deep pie or auditing serving dish, spread with meringue and brown under flame. The meringue is made by beating the white of egg till stiff and dry and gradually beating in the sugar.

Buy Quality—For in Quality is found True Economy

Quality Costs money but renders a service which justifies its first Cost.

A garment may be very attractive to the eye—yet be entirely lacking in Quality—and those very essential details of workmanship insuring Satisfaction and Service.

Mere attractiveness may be only a gloss—a surface appearance, concealing cheap material and poor workmanship.

HARBINGERS of Autumn

Word comes from Paris that almost everything is embroidered especially among Frocks.

Suits promise to give unusual prominence to various shades of brown. Blue is also considered good.

Fur on some of the most attractive coats is used in chic band effects instead of solidly.

Style authorities say that the fashionable wardrobe will have to include a coat of the brief sport type.

—Have an air of simple elegance about them that makes an enthusiastic admirer out of every woman who sees them.

—Are everything but monotonous. Slender, long lines, clever panels, scallops and fur trimming lend them individuality and charm.

Announce the Departure of Summer and the Approach of a New Season

Truly women of fashion are going to have abundant cause for rejoicing this Autumn. Even the most fleeting glance at these authentic Apparel originations will assure you of that. We assembled these particular Wraps, Suits, and frocks because of all the styles, the foremost Creators have designed, they were the most indicative of the trend of the new modes. In them, beautiful soft fabrics and lovely color tones find the best expression and their lines reflect the gracefulness of idealized youth. Come and see them. You'll get a lot of enjoyment and a number of ideas about your Autumn Wardrobe out of a visit to these advance showings.

New Frocks For Which Great Vogue is Predicted

Long sleeves for woolen street Frocks; elbow length sleeves for afternoon modes. Such is Fashion's verdict regarding Frocks for Autumn. Effective motifs of soutache braiding and chemise lines are outstanding features. Colors vary, with navy-blue and black well in the lead.

BIG CROWD ENJOYS "OH, OH, CINDY"

American Legion Musical Review Makes Hit With Theater Goers.

"Oh, Oh, Cindy," the musical revue staged by the One Johnson post of the American Legion, made a decided hit at its first performance Thursday evening at Appleton theater. The players were greeted by a packed house. Dancing, songs and humor drew continuous applause.

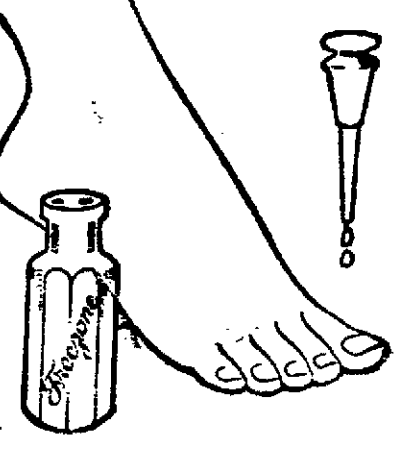

The theme of the play centered around the discontentment of Cinderella Van Alstyne of the Ziegfeld Follies, which was played by Miss Allen Buckley Lamm. She was used of her surroundings and desired to try the life of Robinson Crusoe, played by Charles C. Baker. Through the sorcery of her fairy godmother, who was Terrence O'Hooligan, stage manager in disguise, she is transported to the island with the members of her company. The latter role was played by Will Harwood.

New troubles reveal themselves and no happiness comes until Cindy, as she was called, awoke from her dream and found herself back on the stage of the New Amsterdam theater, New York. Here her betrothed, Steven Craige, the prince in the person of Eric Lindberg, proposes to her and she admits that she has found happiness.

Most of the chorus appeared in the opening scene, which was the back of the stage of the New York theater. O'Hooligan's scoldings and the taunts of the show girls were amusing. Cindy appears and voices her discontent.

"FREEZONE"

Lift Off Corns! No Pain!

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggists sell a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Miss Maud Harwood as Blanche Blondina, Cindy's chum, also comes in with the "three bears." A. D. Weller, H. A. Martin and Leslie Buchanan, who figured in many of the scenes.

The real humor of the play started when the setting was changed to Crusoe's island. Frank Bellow as Friday, Crusoe's right hand man and George Mory as Saturday, Friday's rival for the hand of the Cannibal Princess, played by Ruth Zachery, went through a series of courting scenes that "brought down" the house. O'Hooligan, dressed as a woman, Cindy's fairy godmother, was a scream, always appearing at the unexpected time with some new nonsense. S. D. Gunderson, playing Ferdinand Gotrox, producer of the Follies and as Santa Claus, also contributed to the effectiveness of the scenes. The love scene between Cindy and Craige, in which both sang, drew long applause from the audience.

The play was interspersed with dancing groups in beautiful and novel costumes. The harlequins struck an enthusiastic note and were called back several times. The cannibals, fireflies, Gnomes, aviation chorus, drum corps and oriental dancers were also good. The latter dance was original to the production, and was done by the Misses Sylvia Bendt, Margaret O'Leary, Estelle Hazen and Olive Rietz.

The play was given a pleasing touch in the finale with Miss Helen Sherman and Le Crier. She announced some of the old popular songs, and a group came out to illustrate each as played by the orchestra. These groups were two little girls in blue, Indians, Yama Yama men, Irish colleens, Quakers, Japanese, Hindu dancers, Hindustans and starlight girls. The "big four" who were Mrs. Arthur Schell, Mrs. Eric Galpin, Miss Leila Richardson and Miss Marie Richardson, pleased the audience with their frequent appearance in dancing roles. The accompanists were Mrs. Eric Galpin and Mrs. Leslie Martin.

The play was directed by Martin C. Park of the John B. Rogers Production company, after two weeks' rehearsals.

Each family is to bring its basket supper, but the committee will furnish coffee, cream and sugar. Each child will be given five tickets which will entitle it to five ice cream cones free. They will also be treated to candy and other goodies.

The general committee, consisting of George Packard, chairman, George R. Wettengel, B. C. Wolter and G. E. Buchanan is to meet at 4:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon to complete the arrangements. There are 10 sub-committees that will assist in staging the program, and a special committee from the Eastern star to take charge of the women's events.

FUN FOR KIDDIES AT MASONIC PICNIC

Excellent Program Is Prepared for Outing Next Monday Afternoon.

The kiddies will have the edge on the grown-ups at the Masonic picnic to be held Labor Day afternoon at the awana beach on Lake Winnebago. The bulk of the amusements, hundreds of prizes and "treats" galore will be principally for the boys and girls.

Fully 500 people are expected to attend the picnic, which will be for members of the Masons, Blue Lodge, Chapter, Commandery, Eastern Star and White Shrine and their families. Those who have no automobiles are to meet at the Y. M. C. A. corner at 1:15 o'clock, where cars will be provided for their use. Invitations were mailed to all members Friday by the committee in charge.

Games have been planned for all classes. There will be canoe races, swimming races, running races, jumping contests, men's baseball game, lady's contests and a long series of events for the boys and girls. Prizes are to be awarded the winners in each event. Paper hats, toy balloons, squawkers and fun making apparatus will be distributed.

Each family is to bring its basket supper, but the committee will furnish coffee, cream and sugar. Each child will be given five tickets which will entitle it to five ice cream cones free. They will also be treated to candy and other goodies.

LABOR DAY FETE BEST IN YEARS

Thousands of Union Men and Farmers Will Participate in Program.

The committees in charge of the Labor Day celebration to be given by Appleton Trades and Labor council have completed all arrangements for a demonstration which, if the weather is favorable, promises to surpass anything of the kind ever before attempted by local labor organizations.

The principal speaker will be Andrew MacDonaid of Kaukauna, the Farmer-Labor union candidate for congress. He will deliver an address at the picnic at Waverly in the afternoon and will be introduced by Fred E. Bachmann, president of the Trades and Labor council. Practically every union man and member of the American Society of Equity and Non-Partisan League in this part of the county is planning to hear him.

The feature of the morning program will be the parade in which between 5,000 and 4,000 union members and farmers are expected to participate. Music will be furnished by not less than half a dozen bands from all parts of the county. The organizations will assemble at their respective places at 9:30 o'clock. The parade is scheduled for ten o'clock. Elmer Johnson will be marshal of the day.

The line of march will be from the corner of Oneida and Washington streets east to Drew street, south to Cherry street, east to Walnut street, north to College avenue, and then east to the army.

The paraders and their families will go to Waverly immediately after the parade, where the remainder of the day will be spent. An elaborate program has been arranged for the afternoon which it is expected will furnish an abundance of entertainment.

PROMINENT MARINETTE FARMER IS MISSING
Marinette, Wis.—Peter Wyse, Sr., prominent farmer of Beaver, this county, is missing. He was last seen at his home about a week ago when he came in from the field where he had been working. He had been in ill health since an attack of influenza last spring and it is feared that he is wandering about somewhere due to mental disturbance. Every effort is being made by local officials to locate him.

PLAY TITLE GAMES AT RIVERVIEW CLUB

First Round in Championship Events Will Be Completed on Saturday.

The closing event of the golf season for Riverview Country club is the annual club championship, the first round of which will be completed Saturday. Twenty-four golfers took part in the opening rounds, including three classes of eight players each. Exceptional interest is being shown, as this is the first event of the kind in several years.

In the first class there will be no handicaps. C. S. Dickinson, Vyse Whedon, Carl Conkey, John Stevens, and George P. Berkey of Appleton, and C. W. Spickerman, D. W. Bergstrom, Jr., and S. H. Clindist, qualified. Mr. Dickinson was low with 83. Other scores were Whedon 93, Stevens and Spickerman 89, Clindist 92, Bergstrom 91, and Berkey 91. These scores were made in the qualifying round of last Saturday.

Matches played up to Thursday afternoon resulted as follows: Whedon won from Dickinson by default; Clindist won from Spickerman by default; Berkey defeated Bergstrom 4 up and 3 to go; Stevens defeated Conkey 2 up and 2 to go.

The elimination of C. S. Dickinson by default in the first round, and the failure of his two sons, E. A. Rector and Phil, to play the qualifying round last Saturday leaves the probable winner in doubt. The Dickinsons are considered among the best golfers in this part of the state.

Introduces New Plan
A new plan for playing off the title in classes 2 and 3 has been introduced by Gwyn Bowen, club professional, and is expected to add considerable interest to the tourney. While the first class is playing with allowances will be made in playing off games in the other two classes.

The next eight players in Saturday's qualifying scores, and their handicaps are as follows: Dr. E. A. Rector, 100 and 30; E. A. Peterson, 104 and 30; W. E. Thomas, 105 and 25; J. D. Steele, 103 and 30; Dr. G. N. Pratt, 100 and 28; Gilbert Stevens, 104 and 30; Dr. L. H. Moore, 106 and 30; C. C. Hockley, 104 and 30. All the second class entries are Appleton men.

F. E. Ballister of Neenah, led the eleven remaining players who competed in the qualifying round. His score was 108 and his handicap is 35. The remaining seven highest and their handicaps are: J. Leslie Sensesbrenner of Neenah, 112 and 35; W. C. Wing, 119 and 30; George M. Gilbert of Neenah, 110 and 27; George F. Kull, 109 and 30; F. J. Sensesbrenner of Neenah, 114 and 30; Harrison Smith of Neenah, 120 and 30; and Ray Kelly of Neenah, 110 and 35.

Matches in these two classes which are not played off by Saturday evening will be forfeited, in order to continue the tourney on schedule. The six matches of the semi-finals in the three classes will be played next week, and the Saturday following will be the last to play off the finals.

Weekly Foursomes
Wednesday, the regular, weekly tournament in mixed foursomes was held, the result being slightly in doubt. C. S. Dickinson and Mrs. J. W. Bergstrom had by far the lowest score, with a 48. Their handicap was set by club authorities at 8, but it was changed to 4, making a net score of 44. Miss Julia Smith and J. W. Bergstrom did the course in 54 with a handicap of 13, thus netting three points lower.

Golf is largely displacing tennis at the club. While the golf links are continually busy, the tennis courts are used much more seldom, and only one is generally kept lined and in shape. No arrangements for a club tennis championship have been announced by the committee on sports and tournaments, which includes E. D. Beals and S. H. Clindist of Neenah.

HE WANTS TO TELL THE WHOLE WORLD

CAN NEVER FORGET WHAT A BLESSING TANLAC HAS BEEN TO HIM

"Anyone who has been benefited by Tanlac as I have should be willing to tell it to the world," said Stanley Custer Schadd, an employee of the International Harvester Company, living at 779 Garden street, Milwaukee, Wis.

"More than six years ago," continued Mr. Schadd, "my stomach began troubling me. I could eat but very little, and even this bloated me all up with a sour gas which pressed up around my heart, until it nearly stopped beating. At times I was so overcome with shortness of breath that I would drop to the floor. My stomach hurt me terribly, and the pains in my chest hurt like a knife stabbing me.

"I had awful headaches severe attacks of dizziness I had rheumatism in my shoulders and hips, and at times it was all I could do to get about. I could hardly sleep, and in the morning I simply felt miserable. I would even have to knock off work and I was gradually getting worse in spite of all I could do.

"Four bottles straightened me up and put me in good shape. My stomach is in perfect condition and I have a big appetite. The headaches and dizziness are all gone. I never feel a trace of rheumatism or a pain of any kind. I sleep just fine and have gained ten pounds in weight and feel as good as I ever did in my life."

KING FOOTBALL WILL REIGN SOON

Gridiron Sport Gets Under Way
in Many Places This Month.

New York.—Football is starting its annual task of crowding baseball from the headlines. Progress will be slow in the face of the thrilling major league races, but lovers of the gridiron game will be content to wait the ending of the world series before claiming the full glory of the sport page and holding it until December.

The first of September finds the season of preparation under way. Preliminary practice camps, the smaller colleges and high schools will follow within two weeks. Nearly fifty college games are scheduled for the final weekend in September. Then the grand opening splash is due on the first two days of October, when more than 90 contests of collegiate class will be played, together with minor gridiron clashes too numerous to count.

The increasing number of games is the best evidence of the growth of football's popularity. The gridiron has become a professional sport as well, particularly in middle-western cities. The 200,000 officers and men in the so strong that two members were placed on Walter Camp's all-American eleven.

The great football sections in which championships are decided include the east, with its subsections such as New England and the middle states; the middle west, the south, the southwest, the Missouri valley, the mountain states, and the Pacific coast. There are numerous well organized conferences with some states having twenty college teams competing for a single conference championship.

BETTERS FAVOR WILCOX TO WIN

State Fair Visitors Aver Senator
Is Leading in Gubernatorial Race.

Milwaukee.—Senator Roy P. Wilcox was made a betting favorite in the gubernatorial contest on Wednesday, indicating that the political rabbits regard him as the candidate who will win. Public opinion is uniting on to beat John J. Blaine in the primary.

Some even money was posted on Mr. Wilcox against the field. One bet of 10 to 6 was hung up that Mr. Wilcox would beat Col. Gilbert E. Seaman. Another enthusiastic booster posted a bet of 1 to 2 that Col. Seaman would not carry a single county.

It seems significant that wagers of this sort were written on some of the downtown betting boards, following the arrival of a big up state crowd at the state fair on Wednesday. There was a good deal of Wilcox talk in the air, although friends of the other candidates are not ready to admit that the tide is running that way.

However, interviews with republicans from different sections of the state bear out earlier reports that Senator Wilcox has succeeded to a considerable degree in establishing the impression that he is the strongest candidate to unite on against Mr. Blaine. Enough Dithmar sentiment was also expressed to indicate that the lieutenant governor is making rapid strides against Mr. Blaine.

TILDEN WINS TENNIS MATCH FROM WESTERNER

Forest Hills, New York.—William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia, took the first set from Walter Westbrook, of Detroit, 6-3, in their match in the fifth round of the national singles tennis championship this afternoon.

The middle westerner could do little with Tilden's service and was completely outgeneralized.

Westbrook braced in the second set and took his lanky opponent into duce but finally succumbed, 8-6.

Tilden took the third set and the match 6-1.

E. C. Canner, the new Boston sensation, eliminated Irving C. Wright, of that city, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

But football finance is becoming easier instead of more difficult. The reason is found in the greater crowds that are willing to pay double and triple the former prices to see the best teams in action. Modern changes in football rules make it possible for the smaller schools to produce eleven as capable as those of the great universities.

The east no longer has a monopoly in the strongest teams—if indeed, it ever did have. Except in publicity advantages. Intersectional contests will be more frequent than any previous season. One of particular interest will be between Harvard and Center college of Kentucky, the little school which last year produced an eleven Mellen, Wis.—Mellen Memorial park was dedicated and a bronze statue of an American doughboy, believed to be the first statue of its kind in northern Wisconsin, was unveiled Sunday afternoon.

Col. E. R. Hicks, Oshkosh, former Wisconsin attorney general, made the dedicatory speech. Community singing was led by a chorus of fifty trained voices, with Mrs. Albert P. Peck, now in charge. C. P. Peck presided during the ceremony.

The city has set off a portion of its school grounds as a memorial park. More than 150 trees have been planted, walks have been made and plans made for shrubbery and flower beds.

The doughboy statue is in one corner of the park. It is six feet high and is mounted upon a clock of granite four feet square at the base. It stands at the junction of two trunk roads.

During the ceremony uniformed members of the American Legion post attended in a body.

ESCH'S FRIENDS WORKING FOR HIM

Friends From Out of State Are Helping in Effort to Defeat Beck.

La Crosse, Wis.—Congressional friends are rallying to the support of Representative John J. Esch, chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce committee, who has a real fight on in opposing J. D. Beck, Viroqua, for the Republican nomination for congressman. Congressman Sydney Anderson, Lanesboro, Minn., is billed to make a speech for Mr. Esch in La Crosse Thursday night.

Ex-Gov. James Gillet, California, in this district on a visit, has taken over the fight.

his coat to assist the La Crosse representative and has made three speeches in Vernon county, where Mr. Beck, who has the backing of the Nonpartisan league, is said to be especially strong.

In a speech at Viroqua, the home town of Beck, Mr. Esch denied in emphatic terms the charge made by Mr. Beck and James Thompson, candidate for United States senator, that he is a tool of Wall Street. Mr. Esch cited numerous acts he fathered and bills he supported, which were opposed to Wall Street interests, including the original Esch-Townsend bill, the Man-Elkins act and also several bills giving the interstate commerce commission power to regulate stock and bond issues.

Representative Esch will make three speeches each day during the remainder of the primary campaign, closing with a speech in Neillsville the night of Labor day.

Father's Error Forever Bars
Wausau Man—Becomes German Subject.

An error of one day in computing the age of Erich Froelich, Wausau, has forever barred him as a citizen of the United States. This was discovered by George N. Danielson, United States naturalization examiner, who stopped here Thursday while en route from Wausau to Green Bay.

The records at Wausau showed that naturalization papers were issued to the boy's father, Otto Froelich, by Judge A. H. Reid eight years ago, giving the age of the boy Erich, who would become a citizen under the proceedings, as 20 years, 11 months and 29 days.

The draft record of the boy showed that he was one day over 21 when the papers were taken out. He applied for citizenship papers while in the United States army at Kansas, but was denied and forever barred by the court because he refused to go to France with the other soldiers thus making him a subject of Germany.

The father explained that he had made an error when certifying to the boy's age. His papers were cancelled a few days ago and a new certificate of naturalization issued with the name of his son Erich omitted.

MIGHT BLOCKADE ALLEY IF CITY DOESN'T PAVE

Some of the College avenue merchants whose buildings abut the alley between Superior and Merriam streets are getting tired of waiting for the city to pave this block. They threaten to fence off their portion of the land so the alley cannot be used. Closing it to traffic, they believe, will end the controversy and bring some action.

One merchant who contemplates building is prevented from making his plans until he knows what the city intends to do. He said that he cannot wait much longer and will build his second story over the alley to the end of the lot if the council does not act soon. This would place a number of pillars in the center of the drive.

USE OVERLAND PAINT

(Special to Post-Press.)
 Madison, Wis.—Any woman who was a citizen of the United States, who married an alien and continued to reside in the United States until the dissolution of the marriage by death or otherwise, is still a citizen and may vote, according to a decision handed down today by the United States supreme court in a case known as Shanks v. Dupont. The opinion follows:
 "You inquire whether a woman born in the United States and who married an alien, the husband dying in 1884, now has the right to vote, or is she an alien."
 "She is not an alien and never was, if she continued to reside in the United States after her marriage. That marriage in no way affects her right to vote."
 "In view of the many kindred questions that are constantly arising, it may be well to state the rules which determine the effect of marriage upon citizenship, and indirectly upon the right to vote."
 "Marriage does not affect the citizenship of the husband, and what is said relates solely to the effect of marriage upon the citizenship and suffrage of women."
 "The revised statutes of the United States provide that any woman who marries a citizen of the United States and who might herself be lawfully naturalized is to be deemed a citizen, irrespective of the time or place of the marriage, or the residence of the parties. In the application of this rule, it is wholly immaterial whether the husband is a citizen by birth or a naturalized citizen, nor is it essential in applying this rule that the citizenship of the husband exists at the time of the marriage."
 "The rule just stated is quite generally known. There is more uncertainty as to the effect of the marriage to an alien husband upon the citizenship of a woman born here.

 "Formerly, a woman who was a citizen of the United States did not forfeit or lose such citizenship by marriage to an alien, so long as she continued to reside in the United States. 'Marriage with an alien' produces no dissolution of the native allegiance of the wife," Shanks v. Dupont, 25 U. S. 247, 248. That rule continued in effect down to March 2, 1907. Therefore, it may be said that any woman who was a citizen of the United States who married an alien, and continued to reside in the United States till a dissolution of the marriage by death or otherwise is still a citizen and may vote. If the marriage was dissolved prior to the date just mentioned, she was always a citizen.
 "The law as to the effect of marriage to an alien husband upon the citizenship of the wife was changed and declared by act of congress approved March 2, 1907, pp. 2536-37 U. S. Stat. L. 3223 and cannot be stated better than in the words of the statute which enacts:
 "Sec. 3. That any American woman who marries a foreigner shall take the nationality of her husband. At the termination of the marital relation, she may resume her American citizenship."
 "If residing in the United States at the termination of the marital relation by continuing to reside therein."
 "Stated differently, a woman who has an alien husband is not a citizen of the United States, and has no right to vote here. If she was a citizen before her marriage, she will retain citizenship upon the termination of the marriage, either by death or divorce, provided she continues to reside here, or if abroad, returns to reside in the United States.
 "Perhaps it might be well to add that any foreign woman who acquires American citizenship by marriage to an American shall be assumed to retain the same after the termination of the marital relation. If she continues to reside in the United States, unless she makes formal renunciation thereof before a court having jurisdiction to naturalize aliens."
 "34 U. S. Stat. L. 3225, sec. 4."

Labor Creates Good Clothes

Monday is Labor Day. It is a day when nearly every state in the Union ceases its business to pay tribute to labor. Labor creates and brings into our lives much that we need and cherish. It is civilization itself.
 A fine example of Labor's creative power is seen in the making of Society Brand Clothes.
 Society Brand Clothes are different from other all-wool clothes. When they are being converted from the fabric into the finished suit they undergo processes that call for the highest type of ability and skill. The result of this labor is shown in the superior style and perfect finish of Society Brand Clothes.
 We are glad of the opportunity to wish Labor the continued prosperity it merits.

WISCONSIN HIT BY INSECT PESTS

Nearly All Northern Counties Suffer From Grasshoppers and Army Worms.

Madison, Wis.—Wisconsin has suffered quite severely this year from insect pests.

Nearly all of the northern counties suffered from either grasshopper or army worm epidemics, according to a statement issued today by S. B. Fracker, State Entomologist. The grasshoppers were particularly serious in the northeastern counties of the state, and were so bad in Door and Shawano counties that several hundred bushels of poison bran mash were distributed in controlling them.

The Door county farmers are planning to ask the legislature that additional provisions be made for helping

STATE HOSPITAL TO COVER BLOCK

First Unit of New Institution to Be Largest Building on Campus.

Madison—The first unit of the new Wisconsin state hospital, plans of which have just been submitted to the state architect's office, will be the largest structure on the campus of the University of Wisconsin. The building will cost about $600,000, and its construction will begin as soon as the plans are approved.

The first unit will consist of the main hospital, with administration offices, and a capacity of 150 beds, and of a second larger structure consisting of observation wards and service division with a capacity of 200 beds. These structures will occupy an entire city block facing University av-

BELOIT WOMAN WOUNDED DURING FIGHT IN TURKEY

(Special to Post-Crescent) Beloit, Wis.—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nilsson, Beloit missionaries in Turkey, have been in the midst of fighting at Tarsus, and Mrs. Nilsson was wounded by a piece of shell, according to a letter received by relatives.

"We have been under shot and shell," writes Mrs. Nilsson under date of July 29. "Our premises are between the French properties, so that in shelling them we have had our share. But we have been kept safe."

"This morning splinters from a wooden blind which was pierced by a bit of shrapnel scratched up my face considerably, but we are thankful indeed that no more injury was felt. It might easily have been so much worse."

"One of the boys had his left hand quite badly torn, but we hope that it is not dangerous. Several in the city were killed and several wounded, about ten in all. But the French reinforcements are here now, so we hope that better days are coming."

Early in the summer, fearing for the security of the Nilssons, who were held by the Turks, the government dispatched a United States destroyer to assure their safety.

A joint mass meeting of pulp and sulphate workers' unions was held Thursday evening at Kimberly. The Rev. F. V. Van Nistelrooy was the principal speaker.

ENLARGE COURSES FOR WOMEN AT UNIVERSITY

Madison—In response to the growing interest in political affairs since the ratification of the nineteenth amendment granting suffrage to women, the political science department of the University of Wisconsin is making preparations to enlarge its curriculum of courses during the coming year, particularly those of interest to women students.

Among the new courses offered are the government and politics of England (first semester) and the governments of Europe (second semester); modern imperialism and contemporary colonial policy, Latin American and world politics, current political topics, the foreign service of the United States and international law.

"In the discussion of the present political issues," says G. H. Stuart of the department, "the women show greater independence of party lines than the men."

GREENVILLE ITEMS

(Special to Post-Crescent) Greenville—A large number of persons attended the funeral of the late Oscar Thiel, son of Henry Thiel, which was held Tuesday afternoon.

Henry Krutzberg, John Reimer, William Brax and John Schneider, with some of their neighbors have purchased a threshing machine, which arrived at Greenville last Saturday.

The Rev. J. M. Kammers of Horiconville visited at the home of the Rev. Edward Schimberg Tuesday.

Those surviving are his widow and two sons, E. C. and Elmer, Jr., and two sisters, Mrs. E. H. Hough, Long Beach, Cal., and Mrs. W. A. Bell, Careywood, Idaho.

OSHKOSH FACTORY HEAD DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME

Oshkosh, Wis.—Elmer Leach, president of the Oshkosh Manufacturing company, died suddenly at his summer home early on Tuesday. The funeral services will be conducted by the local Masonic lodge Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Leach was 59 years old and was descended from one of the pioneer Wisconsin families. From early youth he was identified with the manufacture of logging tools. Besides having a large plant here for the manufacture of logging tools and other products, he was president of the Leach Clay Products company of Manitowish.

Those surviving are his widow and two sons, E. C. and Elmer, Jr., and two sisters, Mrs. E. H. Hough, Long Beach, Cal., and Mrs. W. A. Bell, Careywood, Idaho.

GET FIRST CONVICTION IN DULUTH RIOT CASES

Duluth, Minn.—More convictions will follow in short order, said Mason W. Forbes, county attorney, today following the jury's verdict holding Henry Stephenson, 34, guilty of rioting in connection with the lynching of three negroes here on June 15.

Stephenson, a teamster, was convicted late yesterday. The jury was out only 55 minutes. Sentence was deferred.

Trials of twenty-one others, held on charges of murder or rioting in connection with the lynching, will proceed as rapidly as possible, Forbes said.

Cases against Leonard Hedman and William Rozon, charged with instigating a riot were expected to be closed today. Louis Bodine was placed on trial late yesterday.

HURLEY SALOON KEEPER FIGHTS AGAINST JAIL

Harley, Wis.—Unless the judge in United States court at Superior grants a new trial, Joe Di Ulio, local saloon keeper, may have to serve a term in prison and pay a fine.

Di Ulio was convicted on three counts of an indictment, the court deferring sentence.

Four attempts to arraign Di Ulio here proved futile and arrangement was not possible until he was indicted by a federal grand jury. In Municipal court here, when he was arraigned several weeks ago, the action was dismissed on recommendation of an assistant state's attorney general, who charged that the jury lists had been stuffed.

LOOKS LIKE SOCKS AND INDIANS NOW

Cleveland and Chicago Teams Have Inside Track to the Wire.

(By L. R. Blanchard)
By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago—Chicago and Cleveland appeared today to be set to battle it out for first place in the American league. The Yanks now in third place, are still a factor in the race but the block signal is set against them.

The dope that seems to point this way is: The White Sox and the Indians are now on their home grounds and will stay there for twenty-two of the twenty-eight remaining games.

The Yanks will be on the road most of the time and there is no getting away from the fact that traveling is a great efficiency reducer. The Yanks, however, with murderer's row functioning, can overturn a lot of things and dope may be one of them. The Sox always were famous for playing their best with the "money" in sight. The Indians apparently have recovered from their slump and the merry battle is on.

The three teams were strung out today with about half a game between them. The National league chase was tightened a trifle yesterday when the Giants crept up on Brooklyn by winning from Pittsburgh, the Robins being idle. Cincinnati slid a little further to the fore by winning from St. Louis.

SOX TAKE SECOND GAME IN MINOR WORLD SERIES

The White Sox made it two straight over the Reds by winning the second game of the "World series" on the V. M. C. A. playground Thursday afternoon, 12 to 10. The Reds won the first game 11 to 10.

Carl Thompson of the Sox was the brilliant star of the day, showing himself to be a regular Joe Jackson or Happy Felsch in his fielding. He made at least five spectacular catches, each of them preventing runs. His hitting was on a par with the best.

Young Burton Manser, Appleton's Dickie Kerr, shot his underhand curves and twisters with excellent success. "Burt" was a trifle wild, but he managed to control the batting fever of his opponents. Biese pitched an even steadier game for the Reds, but he didn't have the good fielding back of him that Manser had.

One more game for the Sox will mean the series, although games may continue throughout the week. The entire boys' department is baseball crazy, and most of the players are just beginning to get into form. The bleachers and nearby fences have been crowded with spectators.

IMMENSE CROWD AT THE 1920 STATE FAIR

"The crowd was so great that it was difficult to get about the grounds," said M. F. Barreau in speaking of the attendance at the state fair at Milwaukee Thursday. He stated it was impossible to get a seat in the grand stand and that there was so much going on that the attention of most of the people was diverted from the races. People residing in the vicinity of the fair grounds found it profitable to open their lawns and back yards for the parking of automobiles. The prices ranged from fifty cents to one dollar for each machine.

BOSTON SOX HAND LACING TO YANKS

Beaneaters Pull Off Five Double Plays in Game With New York.

Boston.—Boston continued its aggressive playing against the pennant contenders by defeating New York 2 to 1. It was Myers' fifth straight victory for Boston. The game was marked by five double plays and by the timely hitting of Boston, only one man being left on base.

Macks Take 3 Straight
Philadelphia.—Philadelphia made it three straight from Detroit on Thursday when Harris' arm and Perkins' bat sent them down to a 2 to 0 defeat. Harris twirled great ball, allowing Jennings' men only two safe blows.

His opponent, Oldham, also worked well after the opening inning, striking out eight men.

Pirates Lose One
Pittsburgh.—New York defeated Pittsburgh on Thursday by 5 to 1. Barnes pitched well after the first inning. Hamilton was unsteady, giving the opposition a run on a wild pitch, while McKechnie's error cost

JACK SURPRISED AT MISKE'S SIZE

Dempsey Finds Challenger Is Much Bigger Than When They Met Before.

By United Press Leased Wire
Benton Harbor, Mich.—Jack Dempsey was a surprised person today. The heavyweight champion got his first glimpse of his rejuvenated challenger, Billy Miske, yesterday.

With suitable and emphatic exclamations, the champion remarked that Miske was a much larger person than when they last mixed. Jack seemed pleased, however, that the contender is going into the fight in good condition; it helps take the edge off those stories of "fixing" bound to flit about every important fight.

Both fighters were to let up on training today. They milled furiously with their sparring partners yesterday and were still to do some boxing but the days of chance taking have passed.

About two thousand persons saw Dempsey yesterday in a whirlwind three rounds with Harry Greb. Pittsburgh. Greb fought viciously all the way and his speed kept the champion on the go. Almost half the spectators two runs. Wisner pitched the last inning.

Ring Wins Game for Reds
St. Louis.—Ring pitched and batted Cincinnati to a 5 to 2 victory over St. Louis on Thursday. Ring's double in the second drove in two runs and his sacrifice fly in the fourth scored the visitors' another tally. He held the locals to six scattered hits.

Baltimore, Md.—As a preliminary to the $2,000,000 fund raising campaign to be staged by St. Mary's Industrial school this winter, the boys' band of the school will leave the city next Wednesday to accompany Babe Ruth and the New York Yankees on the last swing of that club around the American league circuit. It will appear in Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, New York, and Philadelphia, Toledo, Louisville and Pittsburgh. Ruth will aid the campaign by making speeches at various points.

were women. Ticket sellers said they have many women patrons for the big fight.

Miske's friends were not distressed by the showing of the champion. They were hopeful his long layoff had taken the sting out of his hooks. While not making a lot of noise these Miske backers claimed to be confident Billy can stay the ten rounds and that if he gets by the first five he has an excellent chance to win. Miske himself was unworried. The horseplay around his camp gave more the appearance of a big kid on vacation rather than that of a boxer doomed to meet one of the most vicious punchers in the prize ring.

Fine weather has boomed the ticket sale and Matchmaker Fitzsimmons has estimated a $175,000 house. The arena was practically completed today. It is a natural "punch bowl." The lack of high stands has obviated the danger of collapse.

Mrs. Gregory Lenz of Menasha, spent Thursday visiting in Appleton.

BABE RUTH'S SORE HAND IS IMPROVING RAPIDLY

New York.—Babe Ruth's sore hand was still some sore on Thursday, but the doctor told him it would be all right in a few days now. The wing is much better and Babe no longer lugs it in a sling.

It is a strange fact that the Babe stands to make more money if the Yanks do not play in a world's series than if they should. He has received large offers to go barnstorming with a troop of other big leaguers after the close of the league season.

The Babe has turned down all offers temporarily, however, and probably will not go on tour with any troupe until the world's series is over, no matter who plays it.

SCHULTZ BROTHERS TO HURL FOR BRANDT TEAM

Two Schultz brothers will pitch for Appleton in the three games on Sunday and Labor day, it was announced today. It is probable that Hank Schultz, who has been working on the mound for the locals, will throw Sunday and the second game on Monday while his brother, who has been working with the Brewers and has a splendid record, will work in the first game, Monday afternoon.

Interest in the big games is growing daily and preparations are being made to accommodate record crowds. Menasha is making plans for a big time on Sunday and it is probable a large number of local fans will accompany the team to the Polish city.

RAMSEY TO FACE TRIAL IN ST. PAUL, SEPT. 16

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul.—Witnesses from Milwaukee, Green Bay, Superior and Duluth are expected to be called here Sept. 16, when James Ramsey, former preacher and insurance man, is brought up for preliminary trial on a charge of violating the Mann act. Ramsey is alleged to have lived with Miss Olga Carlson, a Duluth girl, in each of those cities and to have transported her to St. Paul on June 12. He was remanded to jail late yesterday when United States Commissioner Samuel Whaley granted the government a continuance that witnesses might be summoned.

Ramsey is the man who spent several weeks in Appleton with the woman whom he claimed for his wife, while organizing a fraternal organization here.

Women Should Take Warning

If the statement made at a New York Assembly of women, that healthy American women are so rare that they are almost extinct, is true, it is time for the women of America to take warning and look to their health. It may be headaches, backaches, dragging down pains, nervousness, mental depression that are tell-tale symptoms of some organic derangement for which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy—made from roots and herbs—is a specific and may be relied upon to restore women to a healthy normal condition, adv.

SUSPECT FOUL PLAY IN DEATH OF STANLEY MAN

Stanley—Friends are inclined to suspect foul play in the death of Fred Getz in the fire which destroyed the store and saloon building of 12 J. Kelley & Son at Jump River, but the authorities of Taylor county are not inclined to that theory and therefore are said to be doing little to investigate, it is said.

Getz went to Jump River with an excursion, but did not return with the crowd. That night the store burned and after the fire the remains of a man were found in the ruins and identified as those of Getz. How he came to be alone in the store at that hour is one of the unexplained mysteries. There is also mystery in how the fire originated. It is also said that the condition of the remains also strengthened the foul play theory.</
